ENJOY LOCAL PRODUCE WHILE LEARNING NEW RECIPES

A new cooking class offered by the City of Vacaville Community Services Department will help shoppers take advantage of all the wonderful produce found at our local farmers markets.

“From Farm to Table” is a new class that will teach participants how to make a delicious, healthy, meal utilizing local California produce. Amy Hadesman, an advanced student from the Culinary Institute of America, utilizes an instruction method that is demonstration and hands-on. At the end of class participants have a chance to taste all the recipes.

This course is for adults 18 and older, and will be held at the McBride Center in downtown Vacaville on Sunday, September 26 from 1 -3 p.m. Registration fee is $40 and a $20 materials fee is paid to the instructor the day of class. As space is limited, pre-registration is required by Friday, September 24.

Individuals can register online at www.cityofvacaville.com or at any of the following locations: McBride Center, Ulatis Community Center, 1000 Ulatis Drive, and Three Oaks Community Center, 1100 Alamo Drive. For more information, call 449-5631.
